

Spellings in context:

Spelling Rule 'ai' + CEW	Spelling Rule 'ee' + CEW
The rain was pouring.            The hail went as quick as it came.            The rain in Spain falls mainly on the plane.            The train went speeding past the station.            You have got to have a little bit of faith.            My brain is hurting.            I hammered the nail into the wood.            I love singing in the rain.            She has a lovely, pink ribbon in her hair.            Yesterday it was Joe's birthday!            My wallet is made from leather.	I feel free!            Will you peel my orange?            Monday is the first day of the week.            I will creep up on you and scare you!            Elizabeth is the queen of England.            She have the greatest speech.            Dumbo is the best elephant in town!            The children in Year 1 are amazing.            I went to the park.            It's a beautiful day!

Spelling Rule 'igh' + CEW	Spelling Rule 'oa' + CEW
I want to fly high.            'Please turn on the light.'            I sleep at night.            'She might give you a lollipop if you are good.'            My trousers are too tight!            You are right.            'Where are you from?'            He wanted to help her win.            'He has just skipped that way.'            'How are you?' he said.	Will my boat sink?            I don't want to moan anymore!            Will it float or sing?            The toad was slimy and green.            I use soap to wash my hands.            I like butter on my toast. #            'Have you had a good time?'            'I like what you are wearing!'            She had some pink shoes on her feet.            'I want to come to your house.'